Re: State Meeting

When: Thursday February 23, 2012

Time: 10am-1:30pm

Where: 101 Hamburg Turnpike Bloomingdale, NJ 07403

Our first State meeting of the New Year! We have a couple of items on the agenda. First, Conservation Officer Kyle Ziegler from NJ Fish and Wildlife will join us at 10am. He will educate us on trapping regulations and other important functions of his department. He will also discuss how the relationship with Animal Control and NJ Fish & Wildlife can work. Following Kyle's presentation, we will hold our meeting and discuss some of the obstacles you are facing as an individual ACO, and how the association can best support you. In addition, we will be recognizing Michael Melchionne's retirement with a light luncheon. I want to encourage ALL certified individuals to join us. Membership applications are on our website and will also be available at the meeting.

Future training dates and locations will be provided; you don't want to miss this meeting!
